

International Alliance for Biological Standardization

Laura Viviani

Founder of SciEthiQ

Italy

E-mail: lviviani@sciethiq.com

Since 2017, Laura has been working as consultant creating and leading global projects, many of them, dedicated to the implementation and regulatory acceptance of new non animal based assays in biologicals, including vaccines, and in general on supporting changes in the biomedical field. She collaborates with many international organizations, public and private institutions, and regulatory authorities globally. Before starting her consultancy activities, she managed projects in Novartis, GSK and Developing Countries Vaccine Manufacturers Network.